Disarmament and the Individual Citizen

The outstanding question in world politics today is disarmament—the reaching of some international understanding which will put an end to the feverish race between nations to outdo each other in the raising and equipping of enormous armies, the construction of great navies, the inauguration of powerful aerial squadrons, and the development of chemicals and the sciences along the lines of destruction, and, with a cessation of such unwholesome and savage activities bring about an enormous lessening of the burden of taxation and the devotion of national revenues to the improvement of the physical and educational well-being of the people.

Everybody is concerned in the consummation of such an international understanding, but the average man and woman nevertheless looks upon the problem of arriving at an agreement as being the sole business and responsibility of Governments and statesmen; in a word, of those for the time being in authority in their respective countries. As a result, the average man and woman takes only an academic interest in this outstanding question, and proceeds daily to think, speak and act in a manner which operates to make the realization of world disarmament extremely difficult.

With the defeat of Germany and the abdication of the Kaiser, the overthrow of Russian Czarism, the smash-up of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, and the breaking-up of the old Turkish Empire, the last remaining strongholds of old world militarism and autocracy came to an end. With the exception of Russia, which is still undergoing the birth pangs of its new regeneration, the leading nations of the world are now under a democratic form of government. That is to say, the people are themselves the rulers and the arbiters of their own national fate. They, and they alone, can definitely and permanently decide upon national policy. Governments are the creatures of the people, and are controlled, made and un-made by the votes of the people. To an ever increasing degree, too, the women have an equal voice with the men in determining the fate of Governments and the national policies of their homeland. If the people once make up their minds that there shall be disarmament, that they will no longer pour out their hard won earnings to be used to supply machines of war wherewith to destroy their fellowmen, Governments will, because they must, obey.

There is, however, it must be admitted, a fighting instinct inborn in the whole human race. It cannot be wholly eradicated, nor would it be well for the race if it were. It is the instinct which leads the race to push ever onward and overcome seemingly insurmountable obstacles. It is the fighting instinct which makes for progress. But the time is long since past when that instinct should be so perverted as to result in a striving for mastery of others through the brutal, animal method of destruction—the employment of strong arm methods against the weak.

After all, what is one of the most fruitful sources of national ill-will, leading to the making of warlike preparations by one racial group of people against another? Is it not to be found in the pin-pricking policy which so many people thoughtlessly indulge in at the expense of the people of another race, color or nationality? The people of one country make ridiculous of the habits and customs of another. This is resented and a feeling of animosity and ill-will is engendered whereas a mutual recognition of each other's good qualities, which is just as easy of cultivation, would quickly develop a feeling of admiration.

The newspapers of a country quickly reflect the views and feelings of the people among whom they circulate. If there is a pin-pricking tendency among the people, it is not long before the press is engaged in it, and the sharp sayings of the press in one land are quickly seized upon by the press in another country, and soon a wordy warfare is on stirring up the passions and prejudices of one nation and people against another, and forever cultivating ill-feelings by raking up all the old quarrels and troubles of bygone ages. Visitors from a foreign country are chagrined and humiliated by careless remarks about their country, flag or people, and they return home entertaining anything but cordial feelings towards the country in which such remarks are uttered. Thus, from comparatively trivial cause, there arise those national misconceptions and distrust of other peoples which, when some difference of opinion occurs between two countries, are quickly fanned into a flame and a condition of public opinion created which makes it extremely difficult, if not impossible, for the Governments of the opposing countries to make necessary compromises in order to reach an amicable settlement. And it is against just such contingencies that armaments are maintained.

The ordinary citizen can, therefore, do much to help toward world disarmament by merely keeping a close watch upon his tongue and by steadfastly refusing to indulge in, what is after all more or less senseless and certainly utterly futile, carping at and criticism of other nations, races and people.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Peasey Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered with irregular menstruation, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains, so bad I sometimes thought I would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of medicines and had been treated by physicians but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I can recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends and if these facts will help some poor woman, please write to me."—Mrs. J. F. PEASEY, 387 King St., Toronto, Ontario.

If you are one of those women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Peasey did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health.

Farmer's Wife Pays Debt Of Gratitude By Relating Experience

"If I could say just what it is in my heart to say about Tanlac, everybody who suffers like I did would go out and get a bottle at once," said Mrs. A. Pieper, wife of a well-known farmer living at Cottonwood, Sask. "For years I had indigestion so bad that I couldn't eat a thing without suffering misery afterwards. Nothing agreed with me, and at times I was so bloated up with gas I would have awful smothering spells. My nerves were in a terrible state, and I was bothered a good deal with constipation. I also had violent headaches, and at nights slept so little I never felt like getting out of bed in the morning.

"Tanlac benefited me in every way and I feel like a different person now. I eat three hearty meals a day and never have a sign of indigestion. My headaches are gone and I sleep all night without waking, and when I get up in the mornings I am as bright and cheerful as I was when I was a girl. I feel I owe a deep debt of gratitude to Tanlac, and the only way I know how to repay it is to tell people about what it did for me."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Ten Million for Cattlemen.

The measures taken by the Dominion Government for the relief of the live stock industry provide not only for advances by banks to enable farmers or ranchers to keep their stock, but arrangements will be made for suitably equipped ships for carrying cattle to Great Britain.

The advance to be made by the banks to cattlemen will be about ten million dollars guaranteed by the Government at Ottawa, which will be applied in furnishing either stock or fodder where either is lacking.

Pig Clubs for Boys.

A special feature in the Swine classes at the Fair recently held at Lamont was the Merchants' Bank boys' pig club exhibits, which included ten entries. A pig club was organized last year by W. L. Hurst, manager of the Merchants' Bank, who loaned the money to buy a pair of pigs for each member. The children were allowed to buy their own animals, but it was stipulated that they must be purchased, and in some cases the cost was as high as $36 a pair. Eight of the ten members bought Berkshires, and the pigs shown at the fair were considered by the judges to be as good as could be seen anywhere. The movement has created a considerable interest throughout the district, and Mr. Hurst has already received applications for membership from nearly a hundred boys.

McIntosh Fined $100.00

Frederick McIntosh, a farmer in the Graminia district, pleaded guilty before His Honor Judge Morrison, in the District Court in Edmonton, on Thursday last, to a charge of shooting a mare valued at $125, the property of William O'Gorman, his neighbor, on the evening of Sunday, July 31.

In his defence, McIntosh stated that the animal had got into his wheat crop after damaging his fence, and that he had shot it, in a fit of anger.

His Honor, in passing sentence, stated that there was still considerable misapprehension as to the right of an owner of crops to shoot animals found doing damage to his fields, and that it was very necessary to impress it upon the public generally, that no man could take the law into his own hand in this fashion.

In consideration of the fact that McIntosh had made restitution for the mare shot, and also that he had a crop to take off his land this fall, the Judge decided not to impose a prison sentence, imposing a fine of $100 on the accused, giving him 30 days in which to pay it, or in default six months' imprisonment.

Constable B Walker, of the Provincial Police, had the case in hand, and deserves great credit for the able manner in which he handled the case.

Sheep and Swine Breeders

A joint meeting of the Alberta Provincial Sheep and Swine Breeders' associations was held in Edmonton last week. In view of the present live stock situation and in the interests of economy, it was decided to call off the annual sale of sheep and swine for this year, and in its place the secretary of the association was authorised to obtain list of sheep and swine for sale from members. This lists will be mailed out to people interested in sheep and swine all over the province.

Harris made no more attempts to market his wheat that winter. His wife's health now became his first consideration, but, even had there been no such problem, experience had shown that nothing was to be gained by making the long and expensive trip to Emerson. The cost of subsistence of man and team on the way devoured all the proceeds of the wheat; indeed, there were instances on record in the settlement where men who attempted such trips during the winter actually came back poorer than they left, while those who could show a gain of a bag of sugar, a sack of flour, or a box of groceries were considered fortunate indeed.

"What shall we eat?" said Harris to his wife, when, after a full discussion it was decided that no more grain could be marketed until spring.

"Oh, we shall not suffer," was her calm reply. "We have over five hundred bushels of wheat."

"But we can't eat wheat!"

"I'm not so sure of that. I heard Mr. McCrae say that lots of families had wintered on wheat. Indeed, boiled wheat is something of a delicacy. Even the best city families rarely have it, although it is very nutritious than flour and much easier to prepare."

Harris thrilled with joy over his wife's vivacity. The sage gloom that oppressed her so much of late had cost him many anxious hours.

"Besides," she continued, "we are well off to what some of them are. We have a good supply of vegetables, and one of the best potatoes in the west of the winter, and we have half a dozen laying hens. Then you will be able to shoot a rabbit now and then to give us, we'll be all right," he agreed.

"Perhaps I will get a day or two out at the lake. They say there is fine fishing all winter where some of the springs keep the ice open. And then there's always a chance to pick off a deer."

So, in high spirits, they planned for their winter. There were long hours, and little diversion, and the desolation of bleak, snowbound prairies on every side, but through it all they kept up their courage and their hopefulness. Mary spent much time with her needle from which John, when he felt he was applying herself too closely to her, begged her to a game of checkers or an hour with one of their few but valued books. To supplement their reading matter Mrs. Morrison sent over her little library, which consisted of "The Life of David Livingstone," and a bound number of "The Gospel Tribune." And there were frequent visits and long evenings spent about a cosy fire, when the Morrisons, or the Grants, or the Riles dropped in to while away the time.

The little sod house was warm and snug, and as the men played checkers while the women sewed, what came the pioneers for the snow and the cold and the wind whistling across the plains?

At last came the crisis. At four in the afternoon Harris kissed his wife an affectionate farewell, hitched his horses to a team of oxen and started out past haste for Plainville.

The sun, hanging low to the western horizon, was banding the sky with streaks of yellow and gold, bulging into two dull reflected glooms at either side. A ground-drift of itself whipped keenly across the hard crust, and the north-west wind had a nip to it, but overhead the sky was clear and the blue amazingly deep.

Harris drove by way of the Morrisons, where a few low words sent Tom to the stable at a trot to hitch his own team, while the good wife bustled about in the "poom," almost overwhelmed with the importance of her mission.

"I will go for the doctor, Jack, and you go back and take the wife with you," was Morrison's kindly offer, but Harris would not agree. It was dark by this time, and he felt that he could trust no one else to make the journey to Plainville. Besides, there was more than a chance that Dr. Blair might be incapable, and in that case it meant a drive of thirty miles farther.

"It's good of you, Morrison," he said, "but you are more used to your wife's bidding than I am, and you can be of good service there, if you will." And without waiting to argue he sprang into his sleigh again and was whipping his team into the darkness.

Dr. Blair, when at home, was to be found at the stopping-place. Harris tied his team at the door and went in, shaking the snow, and frost from his

TELLS HOW CATARRH IS DESTROYED QUICKLY

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchitis, trouble, etc., can all be fixed up right at home by inhaling "Catarrhazone." In using Catarrhazone you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing piney vapor direct to the lungs and air passages. The purest balsams and the greatest antiseptics are thus sent to every spot where catarrhal trouble exists—germs are killed, foul secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and the disease ends quickly. Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhazone is breathed—sneezing and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed. Bronchitis, irritation and weakness in the throat stop disappear. Use Catarrhazone whether young or old. Two months treatment $1.00. great-coat. The air inside was close and stifling with tobacco, not unimproved with stronger fumes. A much-smoked oil lamp, hung by a wall-bracket, shed a certain sickly light through the thick air, and was supplemented in its illumination by rays from the door of the capacious wood stove which stood in the center of the room, and about which half a dozen men were sitting.

"Night, Harris," said the landlord, who had a speaking acquaintance with every settler within twenty miles. "Ye're drivin' late. Ye'll have a bite supper, an' stable the team?"

"No, Hank, not tonight, thanking you the same. But I'm after Dr. Blair, and I'm in a hurry. Is he here, and—is he fit?" There was an anxiety in the last words that did not escape the host.

"Nothin' serious, I hope? Frost, or something?" he continued.

"Yes, doctor's here. Captain, led to the right as ye go just 'im out in a little back. As for fit—dig 'im out an' judge for yourself."

Harris lost no time in scaling the ladder which led to the upper half-story of the building. It was a garret—nothing better—where the cold stars looked through knot-holes in the poplar shingles, and the ends of the shingle-nails were tipped with frost. Another wall-lamp burned uncertainly here, flickering in the wind that whistled through the cracks in the gables, and by its light Harris found "the bed to the right."

The form of a man lay diagonally across it, face downwards, with arms extended above the head, and so still that Harris paused for a moment in a strange awe. Then he slipped his hand on the doctor's neck and found it warm.

"Come, Dr. Blair," Harris repeated, shaking him soundly. "I want you to come home with me."

In sudden exasperation he seized the doctor by the shoulders, and with one heave of his mighty arms set him upright on the floor and shook him vigorously.

Dr. Blair opened his eyes and blinked uncertainly at the light. "What're doing, Harris?" he said at length, and the recognition brought a gleam of hope. "No use. . . . Gotta sleep it off. 'Sno use, Harris. 'Sno use." And he crumpled up in the bed.

But Harris was desperate. "Now I'm not going to fool with you," he said. "We got out up here come with me or I'll take you. Which is it?"

But the doctor only mumbled "Sno use," and lay heavily to sleep.

Throwing open his coat to get at the motion for his arms, Harris in a moment wrapped the sleeping man in a couple of blankets from the bed, threw him over his shoulder, carried him down the rickety ladder, and deposited him, none too gently, in the sleigh.

Harris drove for an hour, watching the trail keenly in the whitish mist of winter's night, and urging the horses to the limit of their exertions. He had almost forgotten his passenger when he felt a stir in the bottom of the sleigh. Looking down closely he found the doctor trying to extricate a flask from one of his pockets.

With a quick wrench he took it from him, and would have thrown it into the snow, but the thought struck him that it might be needed, and he put it into his own pocket.

The doctor struggled to his feet. "Say, Harris, you're a fine fellow, but don't take too many liberties, see? 'Sno use tryin' without it. Just give me that bottle now, or I'll get out and go home."

Harris was so pleased at the signs of returning coherence that he could have hugged the doctor, but he only said, "You've had enough for tonight. And you won't get out, because if you try I'll knock you senseless in the bottom of the sleigh."

Then the doctor changed his tactics. He threw his arms about Harris's neck, and genuine tears coursed down his cheeks.

"Say, Harris, you don't know anything about it. You don't know what I'm up against. Just get in from Wakopa today, and I haven't had my closh off for week. 'S right! I tell you, Harris, you don't know."

"Oh, I know I'm a fool—yes, don't tell me. But th' engineer knows it too when he ties down th' safety valve I make th' grade. Dosh it jush th' same. Thash jush like me. Come on, Harris, hand it over. I got it 'ave it, or I can't make the grade."

"Well, you'll make the grade first tonight," said Harris.

"After that the doctor remained silent for some time. Then suddenly he demanded: "Shay, Harris, where you takin' me to, anyway?"

"I'm taking you home."

"Home? What home? I got no home, jush."

"I'm taking you to my home."

"What for? You're all right, I guess."

"Suddenly the doctor stood erect."

"Harris, is your wife sick?"

"That's why I came for you."

"Well, why the devil didn't you say so? Here, give me that whip."

"I didn't know. I know the road I'm going, and the end thereof. . . . And yet, in a pinch, I can pull myself together. I'm all right now. But I'll get me again as soon as this is over. Any good I am, any good I do, is just a bit salvagin' out of the wreck. The wreck—yes, it's a good word that—wreck."

Just as the dawn was breaking he knelt beside her. Her eyes were very large and quiet, and her face was white and still. But she raised one pale hand, and the thin fingers folded in his hair. She drew his face very gently down, and big silent tears stood in his eyes.

"We will call him Allan," he said.

Turning The Corner

Indications Point to Return of Normal Business Conditions

"Orders are coming in steadily and in increasing numbers," says A. E. Staley, of Decatur.

"We have unquestionably passed the worst," said E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation, in commenting on the poor showing made in the last quarter's report of the profits of that business.

Textile mills are beginning to run steadily in the south and east. One great cotton mill in Massachusetts put its spring fabric sales on view one day last week, and within three days the output of the mill for the entire season was taken by the wholesalers.

The signs are now really right, Foghorn optimism is one of the most foolish of all business mistakes. The man who fools himself is the most badly fooled man in the list. But with a stabilization of values which has come within the last few weeks, there has come also the squander business foundations, the higher productivity of labor, the more careful and efficient management of affairs, so that the forward step which is taken now will be held. Gains now made are real, not imaginary or visionary, and they will be made greater as conditions continue to improve.

Indications are multiplying that while the country is far from back to the normal business prosperity, the upturn is gradually being made.—The Decatur Review.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Wreck Of Giant Dirigible A Most Terrible Mishap

Airship Collapsed When Flying a Thousand Feet Over City of Hull.

Hull, England.—Seventeen officers and men of the United States Navy, and twenty-seven officers and men of the British Navy, met death in the collapse of the great dirigible ZR-2, over the city of Hull.

Only five of the 49 who were making the trip in the dirigible prior to the vessel being turned over to the United States Navy, are known to have been saved.

The United States officers who started the trip include Commander Louis H. Maxfield, Washington; Lieut.-Commander Emory Calk, Marietta, Ohio; Lieut. Henry W. Hoyt, Clearwater, Fla.; Lieut. Marcus H. Esterley, Washington; Lieut.-Commander Valentine N. Bieg, Brynmawr, Ia., and Lieut. Charles G. Little, Newburyport, Mass.

The British losses include the famous air veteran, Brig.-Gen. E. M. Maitland, Lieut. A. H. Swann, Lieut. L. C. Little, Lieut. R. S. Montague, Flight Lieut. Thomas, and all the other officers on board, except Lieut. Wanh, the commander of the ZR-2.

Starting from Howden, Tuesday morning on a test-flight to Pulham, the big aircraft had been aloft for 34 hours, at times in bad weather, and was returning to Pulham aerodrome at the time of the disaster, which constitutes the most terrible of its kind in peace times. The dirigible had been purchased by the United States from Great Britain.

While flying at about 1,000 feet over Hull, spectators saw the ZR-2 suddenly seemingly buckle amidships and plunge downward over the city and into the Humber River. One theory of the cause of the disaster is that while the ship's rudders were being tested, the giant craft took a sharp turn, which caused her framework to buckle, and that the explosion of a gasoline tank completed the tragedy of the air. The actual cause, however, never may be known. A rumor has been afloat for several days that the ZR-2 was structurally weak, but this was stoutly denied by all authority.

As West Grows So Will East

Heavy Load of Taxation Carried By Small Population.

Every new settler in the Canadian West means at least one new job for someone in the East. Those who fear that an immigration campaign that would bring in settlers might add to the unemployment in Eastern Cities should bear this truth in mind. One in the West means—at least—one in the East.

The present immigration policy tends to ADD TO rather than subtract from the total of the unemployed in Canada. At present a small Western population is bearing the whole cost of the railways, telegraphs, Government and other public services in the West. It is admittedly a heavy load. Though these costs are reduced to a rock bottom minimum, they take from the Western farmer nevertheless, a comparatively large share of his total earnings. Sometimes, in bad crop years, he tends to become discouraged; he may even—in isolated cases—abandon his farm. And when he does, another idle man must also be reported in the East.

But with more immigrants, more settlers, more farms, these overhead costs in the West are reduced. Ten people are paying the bill instead of five. A poor crop does not matter so much. Then costs grow lighter in the only way costs can be lightened. Their numbers increase. Then purchasing power expands. And there is more employment in the East.

The bin on immigration is a step towards greater unemployment—not less. This cannot be too strongly emphasized.

Congestion Of Fruit In Okanagan

Season is Earlier and Prices are Lower.

Vernon, B.C.—With a lack of orders from the prairie trade, the early fruit harvest in the Okanagan has resulted in a congestion of fruit awaiting shipment. The season is at least two weeks earlier this year in the fruit belt, and the bulk of the orders are not coming yet, probably because housewives have not got down to preserving. Prices, however, are lower this season and great activity at shipping warehouses is looked for in a very short time.

First Car of Wheat Arrives at Calgary

Shipped From Vernon and Graded No. 2 Northern

Calgary.—The first carload of this year's spring wheat has arrived at Calgary. It was shipped by J. S. Galbraith and Sons, of Vernon, B.C., and consigned to Willard Cumming and Co. It graded No. 2 Northern, and was sold at the Winnipeg cash close price of $1.77 1/2. It is stated that there are about 100,000 bushels of wheat this year in the Vernon district. Most of this wheat will find its way to Europe by way of the Panama canal.

Steamboating On Saskatchewan River In The Late Seventies

By O-G-E-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyright)

The Hudson's Bay Company had with much energy, and considerable expenditure placed two steamers on Lake Winnipeg and several boats on the river above the Grand Rapids, and as this system was fairly successful for transportation of freight, it gradually replaced the Red River cart transport. Occasionally one of the river boats would reach Edmonton; twice I think in one season was the record of the Nor-West, which, by the way, was the most successful craft of them all, carrying two hundred tons on an exceedingly light draft of water.

American captains and mates from the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers were employed exclusively, but our own natives speedily took to piloting and some of them became experts. The crews were all Indians, chiefly drawn from the Pas and Grand Rapids, but a few plain Indians from above Prince Albert would occasionally engage for a trip or two.

I was receiving and shipping freight in the summer of 1877 at Grand Rapids (Mr. Alex. Matheson, transport manager), and when loading the Nor-West on one occasion I noted the big fat Yankee mate who was standing on the deck at the gangway singing a rough chantee song on the Indians passing him heavily loaded; from two to three hundred pounds a man being the general load. Occasionally, to hurry matters, he would kick an Indian in the posterior while passing, and break forth into, "Come along! Come along! You sons of— Come a running!" and so on. Amongst the Indians was a wild-looking big chap who hailed from Fort Pitt, with a long plait of jet black hair hanging to his waist, wearing a broad belt of parchment buffalo hide studded with brass tacks, and a big scalping knife, the sheath of which was decorated in the same way. His whole costume consisted of a cotton shirt, a pair of cloth leggings and a breechcloth. I saw this Indian's eyes flash as the mate was doing his kicking stunt, and thought he looked dangerous, so walking down the gangway I tapped Mr. Mate on the shoulder and warned him that this was not a crew of southern niggers, but red Indians, and dangerous men to monkey with. His reply was a stream of profanity. Let me attend to the freight checking and he would hustle the — and so on. I returned to the warehouse and kept my eye on the mate. The big Pitt Indian had a heavy load placed on his shoulders, and down the gangway he went with his shirt fluttering in the breeze. He received a tremendous kick behind, and in an instant Mr. Mate was on his back and the Indian furiously stabbing him. Several of us rushed to the rescue, and it took us all our time to hold the savage, who was in a mad fury, yelling that he had never been insulted before and only death could wipe out the stain. We noted some blood on the knife and thought it was all up with the mate, but fortunately he had managed to twist his body and dodge the knife and was only bleeding from scratches. Never was a man so changed. He was too scared to go back to his duty, as he felt certain either his opponent or the other Indians would scalp him, and we finally had to ship him into Fort Garry by the lake boat. Gradually the Yankee mates were done away with and our steady Scotchmen replaced them. These, though slower, had the faculty of getting on well with the native crews.

Indians dislike profanity, and the Cree, whose language is generally understood throughout the north, have no swear words in their vocabulary. The captain of the Northcote that summer was an ardent and strange oaths, and when these failed him in moments of emergency, down went his hat on the deck and on it he jumped with both feet. His desperate language had made trouble on several occasions, and he was warned to guard his speech. We had just loaded the Northcote with 160 tons of freight for Prince Albert, working day and night as usual at the depot, especially as the water was steadily falling in the Upper River, and away she went. On the evening of next day arrived a canoe with a letter from the captain stating he was tied up with a strike and all his crew on shore. The chief asked me to go at once and try and settle the difference (as I had managed to do on other occasions), so within half an hour I was on my way up the river with an Indian and bark canoe, and a heavy paddle ahead of us. The scene of the strike was at Cheneau at the west end of Cedar Lake, and fortunately it being calm, we were able to make the long traverse safely and finally reached the steamer.

Captain — could hardly articulate for rage and every word was an oath. The poor beggar did not seem able to help it. I noted the men all sitting and smoking on the bank and grinning at the boss' discomfiture. I coaxed him into the cabin and told him the situation was a serious one and he was liable to lose his job if he did not cool down. Well, he was helpless, so asked what I would advise and I gave him this ultimatum.

Tribute To Late Sir Sam Hughes

Parliamentarians Join in Sorrow Over Ex-Minister's Death

Ottawa.—Parliamentarians and public men from the Prime Minister down have joined in expressing their sorrow at the passing of Sir Sam Hughes, for years one of Canada's outstanding figures in political and military life. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, the premier, paid the following tribute:

"A truly remarkable man has passed from us in the death of Sir Sam Hughes. His mind was alert and well informed. His heart was a dynamo of energy. Fear was something he knew nothing at all about; indeed, courage was his overmastering characteristic. It dominated his other faculties and directed his career."

"That he has done much for Canada and for the Empire he loved, no one would dare to doubt. At a critical time, his equipment of talent and experience and his extraordinary personality contributed a vast service to this country for which all are grateful, and the memory of which will live as long as our history is read."

Premier Hughes To Visit France

Will Present Australian Flag to City of Amiens.

London.—Premier William Hughes, of Australia, has left London on his homeward journey. He will spend a week in France and will present an Australian flag to the city of Amiens and will also unveil a cross in honor of Australian soldiers who fell at Villers-Bretonneux in 1918.

In conversing with Reuters correspondent, the Australian premier was unable to say whether he would return to the old country before long.

Hon. Mr. Sastry, who is the Indian delegate to the Imperial Conference, left London on the same train with Mr. Hughes, going to Geneva to attend the meeting of the League of Nations.

Winnipeg Old-Timer Dead
Winnipeg.—Robert Leckie, one of the thirty-six registered in the first Winnipeg directory, issued in 1876, is dead here, aged 70. He was born in Kincardine, Ont., and came to Winnipeg in 1874. He established a decorating business which he conducted continuously until his retirement in 1919.

Forward Acceptance

Say Germany Is Insulting Britain

G.W.V.A. Asking Government to Stop Infusing Booklets.

Ottawa.—That large quantities of German booklets, containing insulting references to Great Britain and the other allied nations, were being mailed into Canada, and that the practice must cease immediately, were the opinions expressed by high officials of the Dominion Council of the Great War Veterans' Association. These booklets, it was alleged, were being received by persons in positions of authority and without the consent of the recipients. C. G. MacNeil, secretary of the Dominion Council, G. W. V. A., is taking the matter up with the government, and has forwarded a letter to the secretary of state asking for speedy action in terminating the influx of these pamphlets.

Indian Natives Riot

Seditious Agitators Cause Open Rebellion in Malabar District.

Bombay.—A grave situation has arisen in the Malabar district, on the west coast of British India, where seditious agitators have been working on the religious fanaticism of the ignorant natives.

Their activities have resulted in serious mass rioting, bloodshed and destruction of property. Military forces have fired upon rioters, causing many casualties. Railway lines have been cut. Post offices have been robbed, and mob law is almost supreme in several small towns. One village, surrounded by a mob, has been repeatedly making despairing calls for help. Military reinforcements have arrived at Bangalore, capital of the district of Mysore.

A proclamation has been issued by the British officer commanding troops in the Malabar area. It refers to "open rebellion" prevailing in the district on North Honai, 38 miles southeast of Calicut. Several murders have occurred, the victims including a military officer and a superintendent of police.

Russia May Have To Refuse Relief

Soviet Will Not Recognize Debts of Former Regime.

London.—Russia will be compelled to decline British and French famine aid, says the Pravda of Moscow, because these countries have agreed to assist only on condition that the Soviet Government recognize the debts of the former Russian regime amounting to several billion gold roubles. The Pravda, which is quoted in a Reuters despatch from Riga, declares the Soviet Government would prefer to purchase the necessary food itself at a cost of 100,000,000 roubles rather than pay even the interest on these debts amounting to about 500,000,000 roubles.

World Happenings Briefly Told

Good yields are being secured this year by Indians on the reserves in Saskatchewan, according to W. M. Graham, Indian commissioner.

Wireless telephone instruments will be installed on a number of important German express trains and receiving instruments will be placed in hotels and embassies.

Decreases in export of Canadian farm produce to the United States because of the operations of the emergency tariff act, are shown by Canadian Statistical records covering July.

Sweden's total population at the end of 1920 amounted to over 5,900,000, according to the Central Statistical Bureau's preliminary figures just published. This is an increase during 1920 of 57,000, and a record increase since 1861.

Miss Catharine Jane MacKay, a former president of the American Home Economics Association, and wellknown throughout Western Canada in educational circles, died at Winnipeg Beach recently. John M. MacKay, of Saskatoon, is a brother.

The report that wild ducks banded near Lindsay, Ont., last year had been shot so far north as the Island of Trinidad, recalls that two ducks were shot in Alberta in 1920 that had been banded in New York State, proving that these birds travel great distances along their trails.

General Henry Alexander Cockburn, of Midlothian, a veteran of the Indian Mutiny and numerous frontier wars, is dead at the age of ninety.

Announcement is made that His Excellency Baron Byng, Governor-General of Canada, has accepted an honorary membership of the Ottawa Rotary Club.

Efforts of workers in Russia to help famine sufferers are hindered by the fact that they themselves are weakened through lack of proper food. Famine is now paralyzing the strong and weak alike, and many men for whom employment is available, are too enfeebled to do anything requiring physical exertion.

CHECK YOUR BOWEL TROUBLES BY USING DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

When you are troubled with diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps, and pains in the stomach, cholera, cholera morbus, summer complaint, bloody fluxes, or any looseness of the bowels be sure and obtain a bottle of "Dr. Fowler's" and see how quickly it gives you relief. This wonderful remedy has been on the market for the past 76 years and we wish to warn you against accepting a substitute which may be dangerous to your health.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N.S., writes: "While visiting in Western Canada I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. After trying many proprietary medicines I got no relief but kept getting worse."

"I was advised to take Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and took no time in doing so. I cannot hesitate in recommending it most highly, for when I had not yet taken half the bottle I was relieved. I must say that if 'Dr. Fowler's' is given a fair trial it will show its good qualities."

The price of the genuine is 50c a bottle, put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Live Stock Industry

Want Action Taken to Secure Market in U.S.

C. W. Peterson, western editor and rancher, suggests the formation of a Canadian pool consisting of government representatives, bankers, breeders, and capitalists to form an effective line of defence in view of the present condition of the live stock industry in Western Canada. He urged that immediate diplomatic negotiations be opened with the United States to procure for Canada free entry for animals and animal products, pleading that even an unlimited overseas market could not be compared with free access to the Chicago market. He believed that if the situation were placed before the Canadian public and they were appealed to there would be no trouble in subscribing $100,000,000 for the pool.

Manlaughter In 2nd Degree

Using a razor—bad stuff—but many people do it for their corns. The only remedy that is painless and sure is Putnam's Corn Extractor, which removes warts and corns, cleans them right off. Refuse a substitute for "Putnam's," 25c everywhere.

A Woman Homesteader

City Girl Makes a Success of Farming in Western Canada

Another name added to the list of women who are successfully operating farms in Western Canada is that of May V. Hazlett, an English girl who for four years has lived alone on a homestead in the Touchwood Hills, and made it pay. Her brother, who homesteaded the land, was killed in the Canadian forces at Vimy Ridge, and Miss Hazlett, who was working as a stenographer, and tired of the eternal pounding, determined to go contrary to the advice to sell the farm and though she had never lived in the country, decided to operate it herself.

Success has attended her efforts, and she now owns several head of horses, a fine bunch of cattle, and has more than one hundred acres under cultivation. She is again reversing the order of things as having built a Western home she is returning to England to marry her fiancé and bring him out to the Saskatchewan farm. She is an ardent advocate of homesteads for women.

Probably the two most awkward things in the world are a woman throwing a stone and a bachelor holding a baby.

Miss Green (at her first ball game)—Isn't the pitcher perfectly splendid? He hits the club nearly every throw.—Boston Transcript.

Pain In The Loins Driven Out Quickly

That dragging, wearying sort of pain makes life a misery to many people. This pain is due to a passive inflammation of the adjacent tissue. Because every drop rubs in. More powerful because five times stronger, more penetrating because it strikes through soft tissue, more healing in no pain, Nervine Liniment should be always on hand. Sold everywhere in large 35 cent bottles.

Stake Oil Claims On Arctic Circle

Oil Claims Extend From Fort Norman to the Rim of the Arctic

Oil claims have been staked along the Mackenzie River right up to the Arctic Circle. The staking extends from a point several miles south of Fort Norman, which is 1,500 miles north of Edmonton, to another point within some fifty miles of Good Hope, a post just sixteen miles south of the Arctic Circle. The total distance of the oil staking along the Mackenzie River in this territory is now approximately 150 miles though not continued over this entire length.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA TORTURING SCIATICA

Both Come From the Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves.

Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus act as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from this dread disease of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Sweden Wants Wheat

A letter has been received by the Vancouver Board of Trade from a Stockholm Broker inquiring into the possibility of Canada exporting wheat to Sweden and it is quite possible that some wheat which is being shipped to Europe from this port via the Panama Canal will find a market there.

The Family Physician.—The good doctor is always worth his fee. But it is not always possible to get a doctor just when you want him. In such cases, common sense suggests the use of reliable home remedies, such as Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which is wonderfully effective in easing inflammatory pains and in healing cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. The presence of this remedy in the family medicine chest saves many a fee.

Alberta Red Clover

Red clover yielding at the rate of ten to six tons per acre has been harvested at the University farm, Edmonton. The clover is known as Atlawade, a new variety originated at the farm. It stood from thirty to thirty-six inches high, has a very fine stem and makes excellent fodder.

Miller's Worm Powders can do no injury to the most delicate child. Any child, or infant in the state of adolescence, who is infested with worms, can take this preparation without a qualm of the stomach, and will find in it a sure relief and a full protection from these destructive pests, which are responsible for much sickness and great suffering to legions of little ones.

American Capital Interested Paul O'Leary, representing a party of Central American capitalists, was in Calgary recently to investigate the possibilities of wheat growing on a large scale in the Canadian West. It is intended to operate thirty thousand acres.

A Cape Coat For Early Fall Days

By Marie Belmont.

The popularity of the cape is not likely to pass with the summer months. Its pleasing qualities are so much appreciated that there will be many interpretations of it for fall wear. This delightful coat, cut from a heavy silk crepe in a rich shade of brown, is designed with a spreading collar. It is lined with gold, which is revealed when the cape is flung backwards. The sleeves are cut wide at the wrist and are trimmed with beaver. This is also used for the crush collar that is set rather high about the neck. A brown velvet hat with small flowers made of golden ribbon completes the costume.
